JAPANESE INTERFERENCE IN KULANGSU ADMINISTRATION WILL NOT BE TOLERATED

Gravity Of Situation Is Fully Recognized

LANDING OF BRITISH BLUEJACKETS URGED

LONDON, May 15 (Reuter).—Although there is no comment, the newspapers give full prominence to the Japanese doings on Kulangsu. The gravity of the situation is fully recognized both in official and business circles, especially as the thin end of the wedge in a similar action is more important in foreign settlements and concessions elsewhere if the Japanese army succeeds in enforcing claims in Kulangsu unresisted.

Official quarters are still awaiting consular and naval reports from Amoy but it is unequivocally stated that any attempt by the Japanese to forcibly interfere in the administration of Kulangsu cannot be tolerated.

BRITISH PROTEST

LONDON, May 15 (BWS).—Sir Robert Craigie, British Ambassador in Tokyo, will make a protest to the Japanese Government against the forcible interference with the international administration of the Settlement at Kulangsu, Amoy, by Japanese troops which landed at the end of last week. Japanese troops have made many arrests and are searching people in the streets unwarrantably. The right of search and arrest is the prerogative of the administration of the International Settlement.

BONNET BACK IN PARIS

The French Foreign Minister and Madame Bonnet, after their short visit to England, returned on Sunday by air to Paris where they were met by the British Ambassador. The main object of M. Bonnet's visit was to attend the luncheon on Saturday of the Alliance Française at Southampton but opportunity was taken to come on to London, where at a dinner at the French Embassy, he met some leading Foreign Office officials. SUCCESSFUL CHINESE ATTACK IN SOUTH HONAN: LULL ON NORTH BORDER

NANYANG, HONAN, May 15 (Central).—The recapture of Tangho, important South Honan town, on the morning of May 13, is reported here.

Tangho was lost to the Japanese on May 12, when a mixed force of 2,000 enemy infantry and mounted men stormed the town after a quick thrust from Sinyeh. Determined to re-take the strategic city, Chinese forces were rushed to engage the enemy force in fierce battle throughout Friday evening and Saturday morning, finally dislodging the Japanese.

The Japanese forces, breaking through the Chinese cordon on the morning of May 13, lost large quantities of their men and left quantities of ammunition behind. Following the recapture of Tangho, Chinese forces followed the Japanese on their retreat to Hsiatun, a small town southwest of Tangho. Normal conditions have returned to Tangho.

STALEMATE REPORTED
The military situation in South Honan, which took a grave turn following the successive loss of Sinyeh and Tangho on May 11 and 12, has greatly improved. A stalemate is now reported on the entire front extending from Sinyeh eastward to Tungpei, on the North Hupeh border.

Sinyeh, west of Tangho, is cleared of Japanese forces, while complete quiet reigns south of the town. Forty miles south-west of Sinyeh, Japanese bombers raided Leokokow on the east bank of the Han River, in north Hupeh, yesterday morning, but caused little damage of military value.

JAPANESE REVERSE

SIAN, May 15 (Central).—A Japanese combined force of infantry, cavalry, and artillery driving northwestward to Luochuan from Hingtun, north of Linfen in south Shanai, recently suffered a severe reverse from the Chinese defenders.

Following a brief encounter in the vicinity of Lioclayoan, the Chinese, owing to numerical inferiority, withdrew.

Reinforced later, they launched a counter-offensive and drove the Japanese away. Part of the Japanese were ambushed on the way during their retreat, suffering further losses.

GUERRILLA ACTIVITIES

SHIHUNG, May 15 (Central).—Increasingly daring strokes by guerrilla forces are reported during the weekend along both the Sunwui-Hokshan and Sunwui-Hoping highways, which have been turned into a maelstrom of activities by these mobile units.

ROOSEVELT PREPARED TO ISSUE ANOTHER PEACE APPEAL

NEW YORK, May 15 (Reuter).—The "New York Times" reports that it is informed from Washington that President Roosevelt is prepared to issue another peace appeal at an opportune moment, or if a new critical situation develops in Europe.

Creation Of Effective Peace Front

MOSCOW, May 15 (Reuter).—Approval of the Anglo-Turkish agreement is expressed in the Government newspaper "Izvestia" which declares that Anglo-Turkish mutual assistance agreement, which is being prepared, is a step towards the creation of an effective peace front and a link in a chain which is the only effective means of preventing the spread of aggression.

Owing to her strategic importance, the paper continues, Turkey has long been the objective of usulatory appetites of aggressive countries.

Turkey acutely felt the danger and this accelerated the favourable results of Anglo-Turkish negotiations.

In further comment, "Izvestia" declares, "It must be noted that Turkey had to consider intimidation by aggressors who were striving to prevent her joining the front of Powers resisting aggression. In this connection one must recall she did not ask the advice of the 'Diplomatische Korrespondenz' which recommended Turkey not to negotiate with the democratic countries hinting at bad consequences for her should she do so."

"This advice received a suitable rebuttal from the Turkish press and public opinion which declared that Turkey would not tolerate outside interference in her foreign policy."

"The Soviet has always welcomed every effort at organizing real defence for the cause of peace. With all the greater satisfaction, therefore, the Soviet appreciates the steps in this direction taken by Turkey with whom she is on terms of friendship."

"This friendship has recently found expression in the consultations between the two Governments which established the existence of a community of views on the present international situation and the need to strive for even greater solidarity between Turkey and the U.S.S.R. in the interests of peace."

"Public opinion in the Soviet as well that of all sincere well-wishers of peace will regard the conclusion of the agreement between Turkey and Britain as a contribution to the cause of peace which the Soviet Union has always consistently defended."

SOVIET REPLY TO BRITAIN

The Soviet reply to the British Government's proposals was handed to the British Ambassador in Moscow, Sir William Seeds, yesterday morning. The contents were not disclosed, says a Reuter message from Moscow.

Prince Paul, Regent of Yugoslavia, and Princess Olga, left Florence on Sunday night for Belgrade after a visit to Italy, says a Reuter message from Rome.

RIVAL GANGS IN COMBAT AT ABERDEEN

Man Killed: Many Hurt

Inquiries by the Criminal Investigation Department are proceeding into the circumstances of a fight, reported from Aberdeen district yesterday afternoon, in which a man was killed and several others were injured. All the victims are Chinese.

Details were lacking last night in a brief police report disclosing that a fight had occurred in Aplechau, in the Aberdeen district, during the afternoon. The report added that one man had been injured fatally while others had sustained injuries necessitating their removal to the hospital for treatment.

It was further revealed that the body of the dead man was found in the water. It was recovered by the police and subsequently removed to the Public Mortuary.

Though full inquiries have not been completed it is learned that about two o'clock yesterday afternoon a fight broke out between two rival gangs a dispute having arisen over grasscutting.

The combatants used poles and picks and in the course of the fight, it is reported, no less than eighteen men were hurt.

A report was made to the police at Aberdeen and subsequently C.I.D. officers, under Chief Detective Inspector M. Murphy, proceeded to the scene.

STATEMENT ON PALESTINE POLICY

LONDON, May 15 (BWS).—The long awaited statement on the Government's Palestine policy will be made in the House of Commons this week, probably to-morrow, and it will be followed almost immediately by the publication of the White Paper. The Government will seek early assent of Parliament to the policy and a debate in the Commons on Friday is forecast in some quarters.

When Parliamentary approval has been secured the next step will be to present the policy to the League, under whose authority the British mandate is exercised, for agreement of the League Council.

ANNUAL INSPECTION OF ST. JOHN AMBULANCE

Governor On Valuable Assistance Rendered During Border Trouble

"I was able to see with my own eyes the prompt and valuable assistance which men and women members of the Hongkong branch of St. John Ambulance Brigade rendered," said His Excellency the Governor, Sir Geoffrey Northcote, K.C.M.G., Knight of Grace, Venerable Order of St. John of Jerusalem, when he referred, in the course of his speech at the annual inspection of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, to the activities of Japanese planes in November last year, on the Colony border.

The inspection was held at the Royal Naval Recreation Ground, Causeway Bay, yesterday. There was a smart turnout of nearly 1,000 officers and men and 500 nurses and two small detachments of cadets.

His Excellency was accompanied by Mr. Fung Ping-fan, Hon. A.D.C. Also present were H.E. the General Officer Commanding (Major-Gen. A. E. Grasett) and Mrs. Grasett, Hon. Dr. P. S. Selwyn-Clarke (Director of Medical Services), Wing-Comdr. A. H. Steel-Perkins (A.R.P. Officer), Surg.-Capt. G. V. Hobbs, Col. J. T. Simson, Dr. D. J. Valentine (Deputy Director of Medical Services), Mr. Fok Ching and many others.

Following the inspection of the Corps by the Governor, Mr. Fok Ching presented an ambulance to the Association on whose behalf His Excellency accepted the gift.

An interesting demonstration of work was given by members of the Brigade following which the Governor presented medals and trophies.

GOVERNOR'S SPEECH

Addressing the Brigade, His Excellency said: "This is the second occasion on which it has been my duty—a duty which at the same time gives me a great deal of pleasure—to inspect your ranks and to take the opportunity which the occasion affords of making a few comments upon the Brigade's activities and progress of the year 1938."

Before I start on that task, I should like to congratulate you warmly to-day upon the excellent turn-out which we see here this afternoon. Both in numbers and smartness there is an improvement on last year's parade, good though that was, and I congratulate you warmly on making such a fine showing.

More Japanese Soldiers Captured By Chinese

Further captures of Japanese soldiers by Chinese guerrillas, in and near Canton city, are reported by the Yungyun correspondent of the "Continental News Agency" in a message received yesterday.

It is stated that on the night of May 12, Chinese irregulars, operating behind the Japanese lines in Pinyin, captured a Japanese captain and four Chinese spies employed by the Japanese.

The capture was made after a short encounter between the guerrillas and the Japanese troops. On May 13 at noon, the Chinese captured two Japanese sergeants at Laupai. One of the sergeants jumped into the river and was drowned while the other was taken to Shikwan.

The guerrillas responsible for the captures belong to the 2nd Guerrilla Corps. All the captives are now in the Fourth Route Army headquarters at Shikwan. The Fourth Route Army is commanded by Gen. Chang Fa-kwei.

The remaining stages of the Military Training Bill will be completed in the House of Commons this week. Consideration of the Bill in committee was continued yesterday and the report stage and the third reading will be taken on Thursday. (BWS).

TENNIS LEAGUE SEASON OPENS WITH SURPRISES

Cricket Club, Recreio Score Wins In "A" Division

Two somewhat unexpected results in the "A" Division programme featured the opening of the 1939 league tennis season yesterday. Hongkong Cricket Club beating Kowloon Cricket Club by seven sets to two and Recreio accounting for South China by 5 to 3.

Weather conditions around 5 p.m. were rather indifferent and the Chinese Recreation Club—University match was postponed.

Notwithstanding the fact that the visitors fielded a depleted side, the Cricket Club rather sprang a surprise on Kowloon in allowing them only two sets. W. Duff and L. Goldman were in great form and conceded only two games in their three sets.

Scores follow:—

REST TO MEET SOUTH CHINA

Club Invites 17 Players

The following have been invited by South China Athletic Association to represent the Rest in a friendly charity match against their "A" team on Saturday at Caroline Hill at 4.30 p.m.

Dickenson, Hau Yung-sang, Sheehan, Freshwater, Cooper, Hsu King-sing, Emberson, Thorburn, Hossack, A. V. Gosano, Hau Ching-to, Leonard, Bright, Honniball, Hussain, Gomes and Lee Tak-kee.

As the Hongkong Football Association and the different clubs have no call on the players during the close season South China had to invite the above players through their last clubs.

When all acceptances or refusals have been received the team will be chosen.

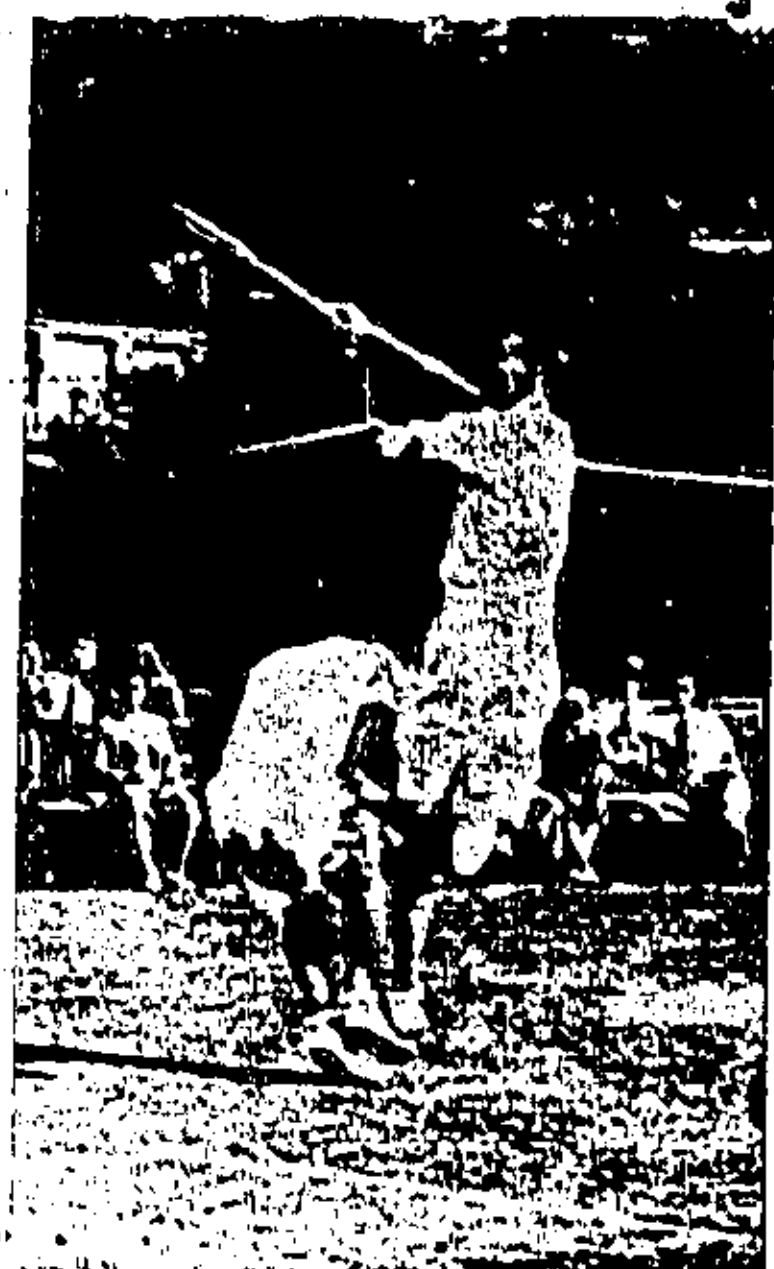

LEE AND TOUR

Strenuous efforts are being made to persuade Lee Wai-tong to take part in the southern tour as Captain of the S.C.A.A. side, but he has not yet decided whether or not he can spare the time.

Naturally, both the Club and the Chinese public devoutly hope he will be able to make it.

H.K. GOLF CLUB COMPETITIONS

The following are the results of competitions played at the Hongkong Golf Club:

"Golden Jubilee Competition" at Fanling, played on May 13 and 14: Major A. S. Johnstone (7), J. P. Tanworth (8) and H. Harrison (15) all tied with 2 up and will play off. There were 70 entries.

Golden Jubilee Competition at Happy Valley, played on May 12.

GOLF "MIRACLE"

Two brothers performed a "miracle" golfing feat on the Crichel Park course near Wimborne, Dorset, when they both holed tee shots in one at the same hole.

For 30 years the Vaughan brothers had prefaced their regular games of golf together with "Perhaps one of us will do it to-day."

13 and 14: 1. H. Smith (10) 4 up; 2. W. Woodward (12) one down. There were 22 entries.

Stableford Competition at Fanling, played on May 13 and 14: T. F. R. Waters and W. N. A. Smalley 25 plus 13—38, tie and divide. There were 30 entries.

H. Harrison 28 plus 13—41 and Major Johnstone 34 plus 6—40 win prizes on the same cards in Jubilee Competition.

Adamson Cup: May Qualifying Competition, played at Happy Valley: H. Smith (10) 75-10—65. There were 19 entries.

BASKETBALL REPLAY

Following a protest lodged by the South China Athletic Association Basketball Team with regard to the alleged faulty refereeing of one of the Umpires in the final match of the Basketball League against the "Sling Two Jih Pao" Basketball combination last week the Basketball Association has ordered the match to be replayed.

The re-play will take place this evening at 8.30 p.m., and will decide the Championship.

DAVIS CUP TENNIS

Yugoslavia Creates Surprise

BUDAPEST, May 15 (T/Ocean).—Yugoslavia, leading 2-1 in the Davis Cup Tennis matches played here, was the surprise of the day. The Yugoslav ace player was defeated by the young Hungarian player Asboth in four sets.

The match had begun on Saturday, but was discontinued because of bad light, when the score stood at 7-5, 4-6, 6-5 in Asboth's favour.

After resumption, on Sunday, Asboth completed the unfinished match winning it by 7-5, and then won the fourth set 11-9 following a dramatic battle with Puncce, with spectacular playings.

The Yugoslav doubles pair, with Puncce and Mitle, had little trouble in trouncing Asboth and Gabory, 6-1, 4-6, 8-2, 7-5.

ITALY GETS W.O.—NAPLES, May 15 (T/Ocean).—Having actually won the second round of the Davis Cup matches being played here against Monaco by winning the doubles on Saturday, Italy was accorded the victory without playing.

Italy now enters the third round and will meet the victor of the Yugoslav-Hungarian matches.

NOT PLAYING—LONDON, May 15 (T/Ocean).—Japan will not participate in the Davis Cup tournament this year, according to a report received yesterday from Tokyo. The reason for this decision is said to be the fact that Japan's two best tennis players are serving in the Navy.

ISLAND CIRCUIT—During training on Friday a member of the Club succeeded in covering the difficult Island Circuit inside the Class "D" standard of 14 hours in spite of delays in the latter half, caused by punctures. Fourteen miles were covered in 57 mins, this including Lyemun Hill and the City roads before any trouble was experienced.

The current week's programme includes runs to Sheko on Wednesday (Meet at Methodist Church, Hennessy Road, Wantai at 6 p.m.) and Tallamchung on Saturday (Alhambra Theatre, Kowloon, 2 p.m.), whilst Sunday's outing will be in the nature of a Clue Hunt commencing from the Kowloon rendezvous at 9.30 a.m. Non-members are extended a cordial welcome.

ROYAL NAVY

DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF STAFF COLLEGE

Captain A. J. L. Phillips has been appointed to the R.N. College, Greenwich, and on June 1 will succeed to the post of Deputy Director of the Staff College in place of Captain F. H. Pegram.

Captain Phillips recently relinquished command of the Iron Duke, gun-army training ship. He qualified as a staff officer in 1921, and in 1926 attended the course at the Imperial Defence College.

During the War he served as sub-lieutenant and lieutenant in the battleships Hercules, Albemarle, and Barham up to February, 1918, when he was appointed to specialize in gunnery. Among the ships in which he was gunnery officer were the Hood, during the world cruise of 1923-24, and the Rodney, to which he was appointed before her completion.

As a commander he commanded the destroyer Xeper in the Home Fleet, was staff officer (operations) and squadron gunnery officer with the Home Fleet destroyer flotilla, and served in the Ordnance Department and the Training and Staff Duties Division at the Admiralty.

RETURN OF H.M.S. NORFOLK

The cruiser Norfolk, which is being relieved as flagship of the East Indies Station by the new cruiser Gloucester, is to return home to refit, arriving towards the end of the month. Since her ship's company, who joined at Plymouth in October, 1937, have not finished their term of foreign service, an exchange will be made between them and the ship's company of H.M.S. Devonshire, of the 1st Cruiser Squadron, Mediterranean Fleet, who joined that ship in November, 1938, and who will return to England in the Norfolk.

ENGINEER FOR THE HOOD

Commander (E) R. T. Grogan will join the bat'-cruiser Hood, at present under refit at Portsmouth, for duty as engineer officer in succession to Commander (E) C. F. Berthon, who has been appointed for a course at the R.N. College, Greenwich.

GREENWICH HOSPITAL PENSION

Paymaster Captain A. E. B. Hoken, R.N. ret'd., has been awarded a Greenwich Hospital pension of £50 a year, in the vacancy created by the death of Paymaster Captain A. Greenwood, R.N., ret'd., on March 11.

NAVAL APPOINTMENTS

The following appointments are made by the Admiralty:—

Edgr. Cdr.—J. C. Flint, to Iron Duke (May 13).

Cdr. (E)—R. W. Parker, to Drake; B. C. Smith, to Manchester (May 9).

Lt.-Cdr.—H. H. Caddy, M.S./Lor., R.A.F., to President for duty inside

Gibraltar Ready For Any

Emergency

AIR RAID SHELTERS

Food & Munitions For Six Months

The 1st Bn. Welsh Guards disembarked recently from the troop ship Dorsetshire, 9,975 tons. Up to steep incline of the Europa-road the troops marched to their new quarters to the cheerful piping of the "Lambeth Walk."

Far below, the finishing touches were being put to the new lines of anti-tank wire on the road to the Spanish frontier town of La Linea. Land mines have also been laid there.

CALM THOROUGHNESS

Gibraltar is preparing to defend itself, should the need arise, with calm and far-seeing thoroughness. It is being assumed that in the event of war enemy howitzers in the Spanish and Moroccan hills, supported by aircraft, would soon nullify Gibraltar's primary use as a naval base.

But, whatever happens, the garrison would not be dislodged. It would cling to the rock and prevent warships of any other Power from using the harbour.

SYDNEY SECOND "SINGAPORE"

LONDON, May 15 (Reuter).—Sir Leopold Saville, who was responsible for the design and construction of the Naval Base and Dockyard in Singapore, is joining the Inner Orontes at Naples on May 25 for Australia to discuss with Australian Government officials the proposed building of a new dry dock.

There have been reports that a second "Singapore" might be constructed in Sydney.

"PRISON WITHOUT BARS" AT THE KING'S TO-DAY

Youth gets a fling in the new Korda picture, "Prison Without Bars," which opens at the King's Theatre to-day. Five of the leading players are twenty-one or under. They are Corinne Luchaire, Korda's 17-year-old French discovery; Glynnis Johns, 15, who scored a big success as the squire's petulant daughter in "South Riding"; and Mary Morris, 21; Lorraine Clewes, 20; Sally Wisner, 18; each of whom is making her first screen appearance.

Corinne Luchaire, daughter of a well-known Paris journalist, was signed by Korda as the result of her performance in a French version of "Prison Without Bars."

Glynnis Johns who revealed herself as a brilliant actress in "South Riding," has had considerable experience on the stage.

Mary Morris, a striking brunette, makes her screen debut in "Prison Without Bars" and as a result of her performance Korda has awarded her a long term contract.

Lorraine Clewes, a Birmingham girl, was given a screen test last year.

Sally Wisner, small, brunette, has only one professional stage appearance to her credit, at the Open Air Theatre last year.

All these girls have distinctive looks and personalities, and all play important parts.

INA CLAIRE DOESN'T WANT TO BE A STAR

INA CLAIRE HOPES HER FRIENDS OF THE THEATRE will not be disappointed because she has no yearnings for stardom in her return to the films.

Miss Claire, after several years of refusals, came back to motion pictures with one of the most unusual contracts.

She works for one year at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, then is given a year's holiday during alternate years to do as she pleases. This means that the alternate years will take her back to the stage.

$10,000 A WEEK

Deanna Durbin, the 16-year-old actress, earned $10,000 a week last year. Her income for 1938, as reported to the United States authorities, was approximately $120,000.

Clark Gable—Labourer!

Workmen were laying gas pipe to Clark Gable's new ranch, when a begrimed labourer appeared and insisted on supervising the job.

"Hey," he said, "that's not the way to couple up pipe."

He got down in the ditch and gave a demonstration. The workmen protested to the foreman who wanted to know what the labourer thought he was doing.

"I've coupled 40,000 miles of pipe," he said. "This job isn't being done right."

After watching the labourer lay pipe for fifteen minutes, the foreman decided that he knew what he was doing.

"How'd you like to work for me, starting right now?" he asked.

"Sorry," grinned the labourer. "I have a job."

The labourer was Clark Gable, ex-pipe layer in the Oklahoma oil fields, now a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star.

"SPRING MADNESS" AT MAJESTIC

Laughable though it may be to observe a youth in the double throes of love and financial embarrassment, it is a predicament that has its serious side. The economies that he learns at college are somewhat less personal than those he rubs against in his search for a job after graduation.

This, in a general way, is the theme of "Spring Madness," which will be screened at the Majestic Theatre to-day. With splendid characterizations by Maureen O'Sullivan, Lew Ayres and others, and expert direction by S. Sylvan Simon, the new picture provides heart-warming entertainment.

Maureen O'Sullivan has one of her best roles as a New England college girl. Equal praise goes to Lew Ayres, portraying a harassed young man of Harvard, who loves Miss O'Sullivan but comes to a realization that without a job he won't cut much of a figure as a husband.

BOYS AND GIRLS!

Here's a wonderful opportunity for you to make some extra pocket money and to get a free ticket to see M.G.M.'s picture entitled "HOLD THAT KISS," another delightful surprise picture, starring Mickey Rooney, Maureen O'Sullivan and Denis O'Keefe, coming to the King's Theatre on May 18 for a three-day engagement.

All you have to do is to secure a subscription for the "Hongkong Daily Press" for a minimum period of six months from a relative or friend. For the first thirty subscriptions received, each successful contestant will receive 20 per cent. of the whatever subscriptions he secures as commission and a free ticket to the best seat in the King's Theatre to see "HOLD THAT KISS," with your most popular star, Mickey Rooney. After the first thirty subscriptions are received, we will only pay the commission, so send your subscriptions in early to get the free cinema ticket as well.

Each contestant can submit as many subscriptions as secured and qualify for the commission and cinema tickets.

In all, there will be four competitions of this kind, each lasting one week. For each, similar prizes will be given (except that the picture for which the free cinema ticket is presented will vary) but, at the end of the fourth competition, the "Hongkong Daily Press" will, in addition to the prizes and commissions earned, offer a special prize of $20.00 to the competitor who has brought in the largest number of new subscribers—so long as the number is not less than twenty.

The first contest will remain in force until 12 noon on Tuesday, May 17, and the names of the successful contestants will be published on May 18.

Subscription rates for the "Daily Press" are as follows:—

6 months	$15.
12 "	$30.

TANGIBLE EXPRESSION OF PATRIOTIC SPIRIT

Gift Of Ambulance By Chinese Women's Club

A FULLY-EQUIPPED, 16-STRETCHER STUDEBAKER AMBULANCE, the gift of the Hongkong Chinese Women's Club, was handed over to the National Red Cross Society of China in the presence of a large gathering at Statue Square yesterday afternoon.

The presentation was made by Mrs. M. K. Lo, President of the Club, and the ambulance was received on behalf of the Red Cross by Dr. Chengting T. Wang, President of the Society. Dr. Wang was formerly Chinese Ambassador in Washington and one time Foreign Minister.

Others present included Mr. Tu of them and doing their best to help them in their heroic struggle. The ambulance, said Dr. Wang, was a valuable contribution to the Red Cross, and he expressed the hope that other generous donors would come forward and help, as ambulances were urgently needed.

Mrs. M. K. Lo and Mrs. Li Shu-pui also spoke. The ambulance, which cost about $4,000, has been built to the specific needs of the Red Cross. Painted in road biscuit colour, it has no less than 16 stretchers, which may be stacked aside to give space for surgeons and nurses. The vehicle is ruggedly constructed and should render useful service to the country where it is being sent.

THANKS EXPRESSED

After the ceremony, a tea party was held at the Club, when Dr. Wang, in a brief speech, thanked the Club for the gift. He said that it was a fine, tangible expression of the patriotic spirit of the Club's members and it would serve to convey to the soldiers at the front the knowledge that the women-folk of the country were thinking of them and doing their best to help them in their heroic struggle.

C. - IN - C. LEAVES FOR NORTH

FOOT ITCH ATHLETE'S FOOT

According to the Government Health Bulletin No. 22, at least 50% of the adult population of the United States are attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form and the skin cracks and peels. After a while the itching becomes intense and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

Beware of It Spreading. Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Here's How to Treat It. The germ that causes the disease is known as Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the layers of the skin and is very hard to kill. The germ, so you can see why the ordinary remedies are unsuccessful.

Itching Stops Immediately. As soon as you apply H. F. you will find that the itching is immediately relieved. You should paint the infected parts with it 3 or 4 times a day until your feet are well. Usually this takes from three to ten days, although in severe cases it may take longer or in mild cases less time. H. F. will leave the skin soft and smooth. You will marvel at the quick relief it brings you relief, especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get rid of Athlete's Foot without success.

Obtainable at all Drug Stores.

GERMAN PLANE AT KAI TAK

"Hans-Loeb" Here On Journey Home

Baron von Grablenz, executive of Lufthansa landed the German plane, "Hans-Loeb," (Junkers' JU-52) at Kai Tak yesterday at 2.10 p.m., from Tokyo via Formosa, with little ado.

There was no reception for the German aviator and his three companions, Pilot Helm, Radio Officer Kober and Chief mechanic Wolschke. Efficiently they landed, checked in their plane and departed from the airport, for the Peninsula Hotel.

The German goodwill ship arrived a day ahead of time. Their previous plans reported that they would arrive to-day on a ten-day visit to the Colony. However, now it is planned to take-off from Kai Tak to-morrow morning for Germany.

It is not definitely known whether Baron von Grablenz will depart with his crew for his home land, or if he will make use of his reservation on the California Clipper of Pan American Airways, leaving Hongkong on Friday morning.

The Baron had arranged an itinerary which consisted of a trip across the Pacific Ocean and flights into Mexico and South America, before his return to Berlin.

INDIAN SERGEANT ACCUSED OF RECEIVING BRIBES

Further hearing of the case in which Lance-Sergt. Amerik Singh, of the Police Force, is charged on four counts of receiving bribes, totalling $3.60, and four alternative charges of misconduct as a police officer by taking gratuities, was continued at the Kowloon Court yesterday.

Insp. E. G. Post, of S.C.A., prosecuted, whilst defendant was represented by Mr. Hin-shing Lo. Leong Kai, fook of a fish stall at Mongkok Market, stated that defendant came up to his stall to collect money. Witness told defendant that he had no power to give him money and advised him to go to his master's brother, Yip Yung, who was at stall No. 73.

Witness could hear defendant saying "give me weekly money". Yip Yung, but did not know how much money was given to defendant.

Mr. Lo: Did defendant make any attempt to buy fish?—No. Did you know that your master and others were planning to trap defendant?—No.

Yip Sow, fish dealer of stall No. 74, also gave evidence after which the hearing was adjourned to to-morrow.

A plane carrying mail and passengers from Chungking arrived at Kai Tak, yesterday evening.

In consequence of giving a false report to the police stating that she had been robbed of $12.50 and a watch, whereas in fact, she had spent the money, Tsang Shu-yu was bound over in the sum of $25 and ordered to pay $10 costs.

EXPLOSION OF EMPTY DRUM

Death Of Young Welder

The death of Chan San, 21-year-old welder, as the result of an explosion of an empty iron drum, on which deceased was working, at No. 380 Reclamation Street, ground floor, on April 29, was the subject of an inquiry held at the Kowloon Court yesterday. Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen sat as Coroner.

The drums contained sulphuric acid, and after being emptied, were not properly cleaned with soda water. The contents had formed into a gas, which caused the explosion.

His Worship, in giving a verdict of death due to misadventure, advised welders and other persons engaged in such work, to have the drums cleaned with a solution of soda water to avoid similar accidents. He said that during the month two such cases had occurred, but in the previous case, a man had only been injured.

HAND INJURED

Ngan Cheong, 31, apprentice of the deceased, sustained injuries to his hand in the accident, whilst Lo Min-cham, coolie, was thrown into the street and rendered unconscious.

Ngan Cheong said that he applied an acetylene burner. There were two drums, and as they had finished with one, they proceeded with the other, when the explosion occurred. He was also rendered unconscious.

Chan Tack-sam, broker, told the Court that he delivered seven drums to the Yee Lee chemical shop, where Chan Ho-kow was the master. Witness told him to wash the drums with a solution of soda water. The master did give instructions to his fook to wash them.

CONFIDENCE TRICK

How Gold Bangle Changed Hands

An ingenious trick to steal a gold bangle from a goldsmith's shop was revealed, at the Central Court yesterday, when an unemployed man, Chan Cheong, 32, was charged with theft before Mr. T. J. Houston.

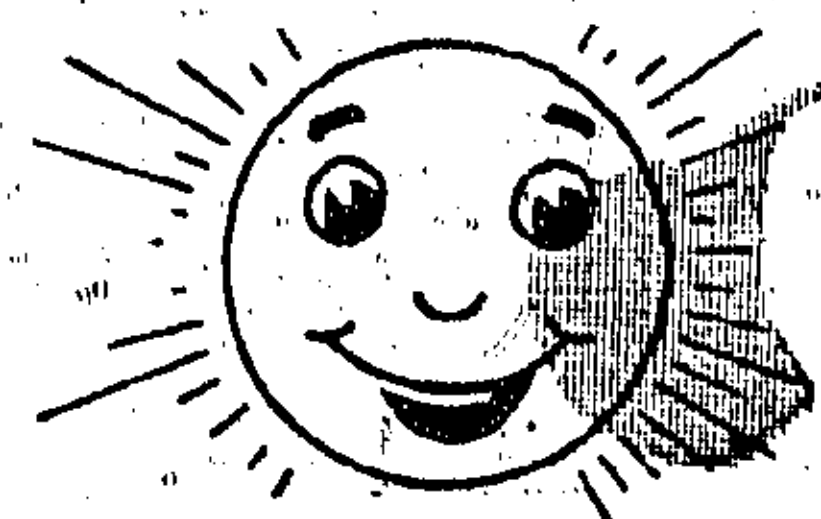

Chan, it was stated, ordered a bangle, valued at $145, from the Wah Chun Goldsmith shop, and instructed the fook to deliver it to No. 33, Hill Road. The fook arrived at the appointed address and handed the ornament to the defendant. Chan was in the house at the time. He took possession of the bangle and took off his long coat, hung it on the wall and asked to be excused. He then disappeared through the back door.

Nearly two months later, last Saturday, another fook saw the defendant walking in Queen's Road. He came back and informed the manager and had defendant arrested in a house which, it was said, defendant had frequented for mahjong.

Chan pleaded guilty to the offence and was sentenced to three months' hard labour. He was ordered to be sent back to his country at the expiration of his term.

B.F.R.D.C. GRANT TO TUNG WAH HOSPITAL

The Board of Administration has made a further grant to the Tung Wah Hospital of $6,000, to enable the Hospital to wind up its accounts in respect of the Shum Chun camp. Accordingly a cheque for this amount was sent yesterday to the Chairman of the Tung Wah Hospital.

PASSENGERS THROWN OUT OF LORRY

Driver Fined On Summons

Found guilty on a charge of driving in a manner dangerous to the public, a lorry driver, Ho Yuk-tong, was fined $50 by Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday.

Mr. M. A. da Silva appeared for the defendant and pleaded not guilty, while Traffic-Sergeant Sargent prosecuted.

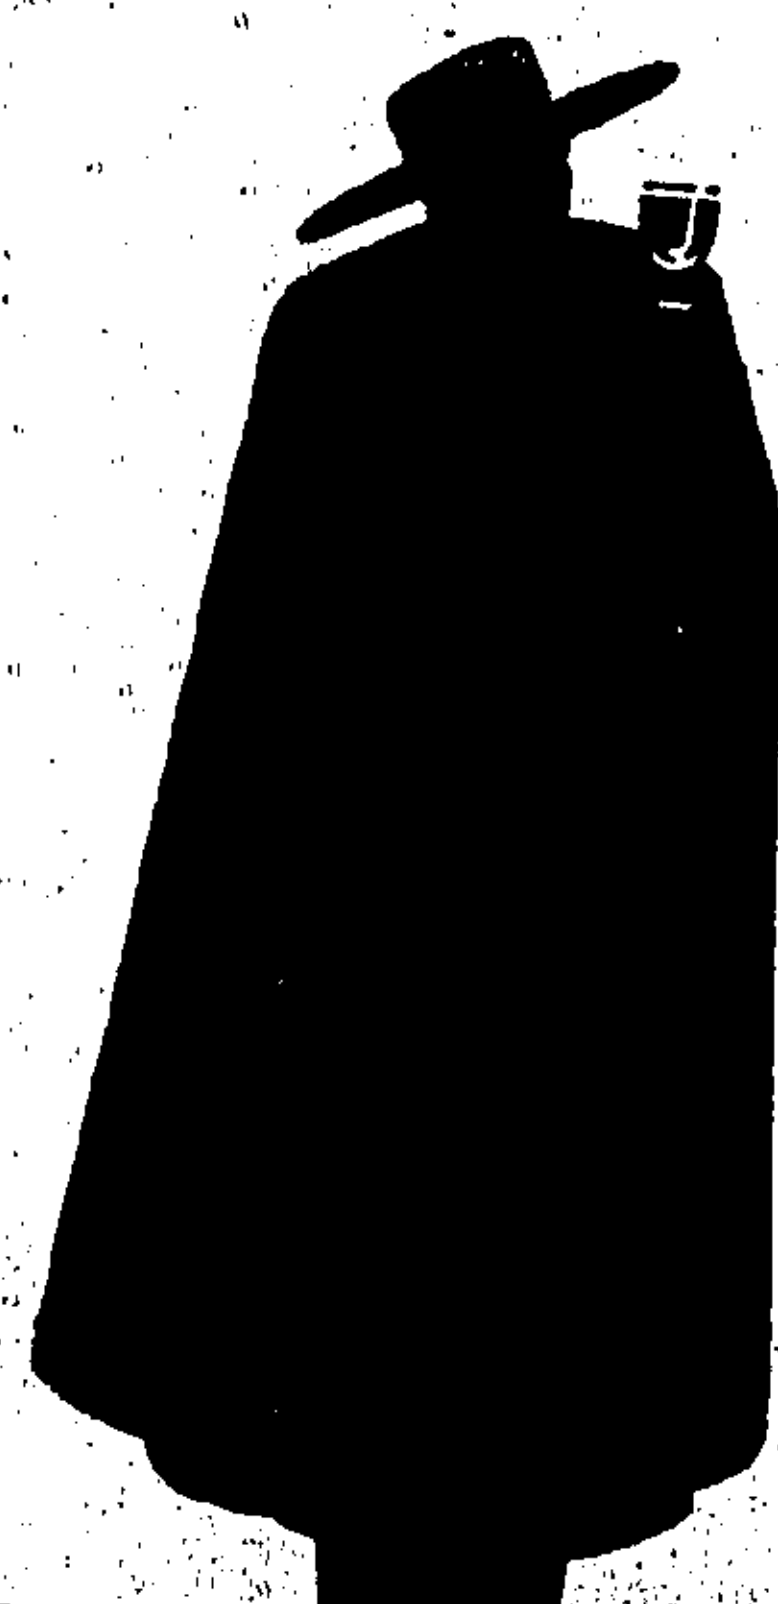

Early on the morning of April 26, defendant was driving his lorry along Connaught Road Central from west to east and when near Jubilee Street an Indian constable put out his hand for the vehicle to stop.

It was alleged that defendant ignored the signal, swerved past the constable and drove on, thereby going on the wrong side of the road. As a result of the sudden turn, several passengers who were accompanying a load of fish, were thrown out of the lorry onto the road.

So Kuen, one of the passengers, was rendered unconscious.

HONGKONG, MAY 16, 1939

SUBDUED ITALY

DESPITE the usual bombast with which his speeches are always interspersed, Signor Mussolini's latest utterances, when he spoke on Sunday at the opening of the Economic and Self-Sufficiency Exhibition in Turin, has made it abundantly clear how completely and totally he has now subjected himself and the Italian viewpoint to the Fuehrer of Germany, his lord and master. If previously he had shown tendencies to act independently, or in imitation of Herr Hitler, the very fact that he studiously refrained from any reference to matters of the moment—Danzig, the Anglo-Turkish Pact, the Anglo-Soviet negotiations, and, what is more important from the Italian angle, his own vaunted claims against France—must be regarded as a definite indication that not only was he ordered to leave such subjects out of his speech, but that in all probability the German Chancellor, to use newspaper parlance, treated an advance copy of his speech to a vigorous "subbing."

IN CONSEQUENCE, II Duce's speech, his customary vehemence notwithstanding,

BRILLIANT SOCIETY WEDDING
AT THE CATHEDRALKING THANKS
H.K. FOR GOOD WISHES

In reply to a telegram sent by His Excellency the Governor to the Secretary of State for the Colonies on May 6, wishing Their Majesties, on behalf of all communities in Hongkong, a successful journey to Canada and a safe return, the following telegram was received on Saturday by His Excellency:

"Your telegram No. 145, has been laid before His Majesty the King who desires that an expression of sincere thanks may be conveyed to you and all communities in Hongkong for the message."

has at once been classed as a harmless harangue containing little to which strenuous objection can be taken. Speaking collectively all along, Signor Mussolini made a brave effort to colour his phrases in his usual flamboyant style, but he failed to conceal from an observant world that to-day his end of the Axis is grasped firmly in the hand of the German dictator. "All our objectives will be reached," he thundered; "the system of guarantees will crumble up," he declared—all in obedience to behests from Berlin. And then he went on to commit his blunder, a blunder of inaccuracy and weak procrastination when he made the surprising assertion that "Japan, Germany and Italy have not abstracted a square metre of territory or a single inhabitant from the sovereignty of the great democracies." Signor Mussolini's qualification "the great democracies" excluded from his thoughts at the moment the invasion of Abyssinia, the Austrian coup, the rape of Czechoslovakia, the Albanian expedition and Japan's "China Incident." He even overlooked, in his nervousness not to irritate the German Chancellor, Germany's, and his own, claims to colonies which belong to the "great democracies!"

THE TEMPO of II Duce's speech, therefore, furnishes the proof that an anxious world has been waiting for during these past few months—proof that the action now being taken by the democratic powers of the west to safeguard the independence of those smaller states whose independence is being threatened by dictatorial measures, has had the necessary effect in calling a temporarily halt, at least, to totalitarian plans in Europe. Whatever comfort this thought may bring to those who are striving for peace and the avoidance of war, it must not be construed to mean that Europe and the world generally are out of the danger that has been threatening to destroy civilization. On the contrary, Herr Hitler will assuredly resort to even more subtle plans to achieve his ends. If he does not fulfil his off-repeated promises to those on whose emotions he has so successfully worked, it will not only mean disaster for himself, but catastrophe for the much publicized Axis. There is such a thing as face-saving and no one is more alive to it than the German Chancellor. The democracies, therefore, having scored in the first round, must not relax their efforts to meet every move that will undoubtedly follow. Such moves can only be checked by a further consolidation of their position with all those nations who are prepared to line up against ruthlessness and overbearing dictatorial technique.

Twelve men, including hawkers and unemployed, were charged before Mr. T. J. Houston at the Central Court yesterday with wounding Chan Pul, unemployed, at Bridges Street on May 10. They were remanded for three days on application of the police for further inquiries.

Mr. Jack Hutton-Potts And Miss Antonia Cohen

RECEPTION ON TAMAR

Spring's most beautiful bride was Miss Antonia Ursula Cohen who was married yesterday afternoon in St. John's Cathedral to Mr. Jack Hutton-Potts. The ceremony was performed by the Very Rev. J. L. Wilson.

Miss Cohen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Cohen, Gloucestershire, and during the past few months she has been visiting with Commodore and Mrs. E. B. C. Dicken at their Peak residence. Yesterday, Commodore Dicken honoured the bride by escorting her to the altar. Mrs. David Cohen, the bride's mother arrived in Hongkong last Friday flying from London to attend the wedding.

Mr. Hutton-Potts is the son of the late Mr. George Hutton-Potts, former chairman of the Hongkong Stock Exchange, and Mrs. R. McLeish of London. Serving Mr. Potts as best man was Mr. Robin MacGregor.

The Cathedral was beautifully decorated the artistic arrangements being executed by Lady Pollock. Approximately two hundred guests, who were escorted to their seats by ushers, Mr. Claude Burgess, Flag-Lieutenant J. P. Gunner, R.N., Mr. F. M. Thomson, Lieut. A. M. Green, R.N. and Mr. Honky Kwan.

PRETTY BRIDE

The pretty, scintillating bride swept down the aisle, in a beige-pearl brocade gown with a long pointed train. About her neck were strands of pearls, and the veil attached to her head with a bandeau was of the same shade and hung to her waist in folds. In her hands, Miss Cohen carried fragile, rare orchids of yellow, with greens.

The material of the dress was by Rodier and the Empire style post-molynex. Madame Helene produced that exquisite daintiness in the finish of the tiny puff sleeves and the gathering.

Man Kam To, closed on April 30.

Attending the bride were the two beautiful twins, Miss Kay Lucas and Miss Lorna Lucas, of Shanghai. The bridesmaids carried out the same colour scheme as the bride's gown, beige-pearl or ganzae fashioned in floor length frocks with puff sleeves and fitted bodice. Pique bonnets of organza, tulle and velvet ribbon were worn over their stylish coiffures. Their corsages were of the same variety of orchid in one large spray.

In a setting sun and with the echoing peels of St. John's Cathedral's bells in the late afternoon air, the bride and groom departed from the Church and motored to the naval dockyard where they boarded the H. M. S. Tamar for the reception.

WITTY SPEECH

Toasting the newly-weds, Commodore Dicken uttered the amusing words, "I am given to understand that amongst those who play certain games of chance, the winnings of jackpots is particularly a matter for congratulations and while I do not in any way want to suggest that 'Antonia' is 'taking a chance,' I am sure you will all agree that she is very much to be felicitated in 'scooping the pool!'"

Attending the cocktail party and offering congratulations were approximately three hundred and fifty guests and in this gay gathering were seen Lady Noble, Mr. and Mrs. D. Landale, Miss Vickers, Brigadier and Mrs. Reeve and Miss J. Reeve, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell and Mrs. Lindsell, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cock, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hall, Major G. Odell, Mr. Bu Tong-sen, Mr. Gifford Hull, Mrs. Alice Herlofsen, Commander and Mrs. Porter, Brigadier and Mrs. A. B. Thomson, were just a few honouring the bride and groom.

Though the date is not announced Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hutton-Potts are planning a honeymoon trip to Batavia and Bali.

Mrs. Hutton-Potts will be attended in summer's latest travelling creation of lime green crepe having a dark blue flower print design, her hat and accessories matching the design in colour and a rakish lime coloured scarf at the neck, when she boards the steamer for the south.

Appearing on remand before Mr. E. Hingsworth at the Kowloon Magistrate's yesterday, B. J. Levonovich, overseer of the China Light and Power Co., summoned for assault on Li Hon on April 22, at Tai Wan Bay, was discharged. Mr. M. A. da Silva appeared for the complainant.

NEW AMERICAN PRESIDENT
LINE VESSELS

Information regarding the New American President Line's type C-3 Around-World liners, now being built by order of the U.S. Maritime Commission, was announced yesterday.

All six of these modern streamlined vessels are to be placed in service from the ports of San Francisco and Los Angeles. The first of them should be available within a year or eighteen months, according to Mr. Joseph R. Sheehan, President of the American President Lines.

The new ships will be combination passenger and cargo carriers, affording spacious and de luxe accommodations for between 80 and 100 passengers.

General particulars of the vessels follow:—

Length—overall: 492 feet; beam: 69½ feet; draft, loaded: 26½ feet; displacement tonnage: 16,190; deadweight, at full load displacement: 9,690 tons; speed, 18½ knots; cruising radius at 16½ knots; approximately 12,000 nautical miles; crew complement, approx. 100.

The vessels will have refrigerator space for approximately 600 tons, and general cargo space of about 5,430 tons.

The Commission has followed the latest developments in this country and abroad, and in some instances has been the initiator of improvements, so that these vessels may compete successfully with all other ships of this particular design class.

PANIC IN AMOYCHINESE YOUTHS ARRESTED

FOOCHOW, May 15 (Central)—More than 100 Chinese youths in Kulangsu, who were arrested by the Japanese following their landing there last week, are reported to have been escorted to Amoy. Their fate is unknown.

Panic now reigns in the island with Japanese sentries posted at vantage points. The Kulangsu Municipal Council is said to be experiencing difficulties in carrying out its police duties.

Most of the shops, including those owned by foreigners, have suspended business.

JAPANESE AIR
RAIDSHeavy Property Loss
In Changchow

FOOCHOW, May 15 (Central)—Heavy civilian property losses were caused by eight Japanese planes on Saturday when they severely raided Changchow, in south Fukien. More than 50 bombs were dropped in the city, devastating a wide area.

Hsiang, Chihmei, Tunan and Sungyu, on the coast east of Changchow, were also raided.

SWATOW BOMBED
SWATOW, May 15 (Central)—More civilian casualties were caused by three Japanese planes in a raid yesterday morning when they dropped a number of bombs over the busy sections of the city.

CHUNGKING PROTEST
CHUNGKING, May 15 (Central)—The China Branch of the International Peace Campaign has cabled a detailed report of recent mass raids on Chungking by Japanese warplanes to the headquarters of the International Peace Campaign in Geneva.

The cablegram points out the baseness of the Japanese terrorist action which failed to break down Chinese resistance and, on the contrary, even strengthened the Chinese will to fight to the end.

The cablegram requests that the resolutions passed by the Paris Conference for the Denunciation of Bombardment of Open Cities be enforced and that sanctions against Japan by various Powers be tightened.

WARSAW, May 15 (Reuter)—Gen. Kasprzycki, the Polish Defence Minister, has left for Paris on a private visit.

It is stated, however, that he will discuss military matters.

ASIATIC CHOLERA AMONG THE CHINESEAppalling Toll Of Dread
Scourge Of The East

(BY T. PAUL GREGORY)

The recent warning of the Director of Medical Services on the subject of the return of Asiatic Cholera to the Colony has concentrated attention on this dread scourge of the East. The pestilential disease has achieved an unenviable notoriety in the race for "public enemy No. 1," and, like the human menaces to communal safety and public welfare, it is a comparatively new recruit to gangsterdom.

Asiatic Cholera broke into print, so to speak, in the year 1819, when it decided to "muscle in" on the secure racket enjoyed by other diseases in the province of Bengal in British India. Like John Dillinger, "Baby Face" Nelson, and other vermin of the gangster era in the U.S.A., it could not confine its activities to one section of the country, but had to run amok, and soon spread over a great part of Asia.

But where human gangsters could ordinarily count their victims on the fingers of both hands, cholera's appalling toll must amount to millions, and the "G-men" of public health have been powerless to stop its ravages. This state of affairs will continue as long as the masses of the East remain indifferent to the dangers resulting from contaminated food and water.

First Appearance:

The first appearance of the disease in China was in 1820, when it was introduced into Kwangtung and Fukien by returning emigrants from the Straits Settlements. During the summers of 1920 and 1921, the Middle Kingdom suffered severely, and, singularly enough, it was in the rural areas, where the mortality was the highest.

The Chinese were naturally greatly alarmed at the sudden outbreak, and while their physicians understood the treatment of ordinary bowel complaints, they were completely baffled by this visitation from India.

The dreadful cramps assailing the extremities were regarded as the very torments of hell, and were the only means of differentiating it from the usual crop of summer diseases. From these circumstances, Asiatic Cholera is known in many parts of China to this day, as the ch'au-kan ching, or "sickness which contracts the tendons."

Various explanations were advanced by the Chinese to account for the cause of the pestilence, and, in the absence of any knowledge concerning sanitation and the germ theory of disease, most conjectures were deeply tinged with superstition.

The common belief was that the malady arose from "morbific cold," which disturbed the harmony of the powers of the system, and could only be restored by administering medicines increasing the "natural fire," such as cassia, cinnamon, aloes-wood, sulphur, asbestos, stacteite, deer horn tips, dried kop-kai, or "spotted lizard," silkworm moths, etc.

Another Notion:

Another notion was the direct opposite of this, and like it was accepted as Gospel truth by an equally large number of people. It held that the "accumulated heat" in the body destroyed the equilibrium subsisting among the various organs, and that the method of proper treatment consisted in the use of cooling remedies.

Strangely enough this school of native thought anticipated modern medical science by realising that cholera was a form of blood poisoning, and although it was a disease of the bowels, its true seat was in the blood.

Consequently, the exponents of this belief prescribed for their patients medicines reputed to cool the blood, such as saffron, cypress tops, elm root, cinnabar, and rabbit's flesh.

These theories, or rather a combination of them, are still in vogue in China to this day. In the treatment of cholera as followed by many of the old-fashioned Chinese physicians, the juice of fresh ginger plays a great part, being used to impart vital energy and warmth to the body. Sometimes sternutatories (substances promoting sneezing, such as snuff, etc.) are resorted to as a preliminary regimen, the idea being that, if a cholera patient can be made to sneeze, his constitution is thought to favour recovery.

Like the western mode of therapeutic procedure, the Chinese apply heat to the abdomen, but instead of hot flaxseed poultices, or hot turpentine stupes (omentations), such counter-irritants as a mixture of salt and garlic, or even moxa are employed.

Widespread Ignorance:

By such means, relief is afforded to many; but it is in the treatment of the fever which occurs in a later stage, that Chinese medicine generally fails in cholera. This is because there is such a widespread ignorance regarding really effective methods of reducing fevers other than by the ancient mode of kwat-sha, or "scrapping the moistened skin with a copper coin, jade buckle or tablespoon."

Consequently, the mortality is abnormally large, but with the knowledge of the use of ice and cold packs to the head and body, or even cold sponging, perhaps a more favourable outcome to cholera cases might be expected.

Often when the fever is at its height, and delirium is the inevitable consequence, causing the "soul" to wander away from the body," as the Chinese naively express it, extraordinary methods are adopted in certain parts of the country.

One of these, employed in the case of children, is as follows: The nearest relative of the ailing youngster takes a lighted lantern in his hand, and stands outside the door of the house. Occasionally he waves the lantern above his head, and cries out in a mournful voice the child's name: "A-sel wool-lai loh! A-sel wool-lai loh! A-sel come back home! A-sel come back home! Those in the house who are watching the little patient answer: "A-sel lai-choi! A-sel lai-choi!" (A-sel has come back! A-sel has come back!) This strange dialogue is repeated over and over again, with the hope that the delirium will subside.

When this occurs, the family rejoices, believing that the wandering soul has seen the lighted lantern, and hearing the call, has returned to its usual abode, with the result that the fever is broken and the child is probably assured of eventual recovery.

Serious Disadvantage:

But generally speaking the lack of information available among the masses places them at a serious disadvantage during a cholera epidemic. This is well illustrated in the case of the treatment of the terrible cramps which are among the first symptoms of the disease.

When these occur, it requires all the ingenuity of those at the bedside to provide a remedy, and it is not surprising that the expedients adopted run the full gamut of the imagination.

One of the most singular is the following: A paper parasol, together with the bamboo framework of an old Chinese lantern and some dried stalks of garlic are burned beside the patient's bed. The acrid odour of the burning garlic may possibly exert a sedative effect on the sick, but the other objects apparently serve no useful purpose, unless it is the provision of sufficient tinder for the combustion of the herb.

As long as such methods of treatment prevail, and the practical application of sanitary science remains neglected, Asiatic Cholera will continue to devastate the East. But with the general adoption of such preventive measures as those which have been found effective in controlling the pestilence elsewhere, China will cease to be one of the principal foci of infection, and an immediate improvement in public health with a decline in mortality will be the result.

Royal Arrival In Quebec Delayed: Liner Ploughs Through Ice-Fields

EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA, MAY 15 (REUTERS)—FRESH EXCITEMENT AWAITED THE PASSENGERS WHEN THEY AWOKE YESTERDAY MORNING to find the ship in clear weather, but entirely surrounded by ice-floes, through which the liner ploughed at four knots, with ice-floes bumping and scraping the sides and carrying away the paint, leaving behind her a track of black sea through the white ice.

Japan's Kwangtung Campaign

PLANS HELD UP BY LACK OF TROOPS

From Our Own Correspondent
CHUNGSHAN, May 15.—Having recaptured Fook Wai, 30 miles north-east of Canton, Chinese forces are following up their success by attacking Tsengcheng in the east. Japanese reinforcements are rushed to Tsengcheng along the highway. Several hills overlooking Tsengcheng were also recaptured by troops of General Wu Chi-wel, head of the 9th Group Army.

Without sufficient troops for their campaign in Kwangtung, the Japanese in Canton are enlisting riflemen and brigades for six months training, and these men will be used for service in this province. The Japanese told the puppets that they will have nothing to lose, for in the event of defeat they just discard their uniforms and resumed their role of Chinese citizens. They are interested in looking their fellow countrymen and dead Japanese soldiers.

ANOTHER THREAT

Japan's failure to push westward, via Hoshan and Koming, prompts them to make another threat to Chungshan county from the north. The militia here are ready to give battle. Chinese reports feature the military activities of Mr. Wu Fal, a provincial official, who came here really to look into the tax situation, as he is not a professional soldier.

Japanese intelligence reports were wrong when they claimed that Gen. Pai, Hsueh-shi, the famous Kwangsi military chief, had gone to Yungyun, north of Canton, to give orders to the provincial troops there. Yungyun was, therefore, heavily bombed on May 12, and over a hundred civilians were killed. Gen. Pai was not in town at the time of the raid.

Being unsuccessful on many fronts, the Japanese high command is in session in Canton to plan out new moves.

TERRITORIAL ARMY

During March 13,335 recruits joined the Territorial Army—a record for any one month's recruiting.

On April 1 the strength in officers and men was 221,953, compared with 167,395 a year ago.

The establishment was 236,379, a figure which includes a number of new units formed on that day, and the average strength of the 13 divisions of the Field Force was 99.5 per cent. of establishment.

WELFARE OF CHINESE IN OCCUPIED AREAS

SUPREMACY OF SPIRITUAL STRENGTH: GENERALISSIMO CHIANG'S BROADCAST

In a nation-wide broadcast on the evening of May 1, at the first People's Monthly Meeting of the National Spiritual Mobilization Movement, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek dealt at length on the significance of the Movement and the supremacy of spiritual strength. He expressed his deep concern over the welfare of the people in the guerrilla districts and Japanese occupied areas.

After exhorting his audience to vow to make May the "month of national humiliation," the "month of revenge," the Generalissimo went on to express his concern for the people outside of "Free China," especially those along railways and in the North-Eastern Provinces.

"The Sign of Victory," a drawing by Lai Ping-hung.

"Although physically we are separated, our souls and spirits are closely united," he declared. "I have never for one moment forgotten the painful life which you are leading under Japanese oppression. I know that you are looking forward to the day of our victory and the recovery of our lost territory. I know the efforts you are making to maintain the national spirit under enemy oppression."

Move Effective

"When I hear that you have killed an enemy or destroyed a batch of enemy goods, I am more moved and elated than I am on receiving news of military success at the front. To kill one enemy in the Japanese rear is more effective than killing 100 at the front."

"To resist the enemy spiritually and to refuse them co-operation behind their lines is just as effective as fighting against them at the front. We shall not forget you and we shall do all we can to live up to your expectations and redeem you from oppression. For this reason we shall continue the war of prolonged resistance at any sacrifice."

"To-day we launch our National Spiritual Mobilization Movement. I know that all Chinese, wherever they may be will join us in this movement. We are one people. War may temporarily separate us, but it cannot destroy our patriotic spirit."

Appeal To Youth

"I expect," he continued, "those who live in Shanghai, Nanking, Hankow, and foreign countries, especially our youth, to remember the humiliations of the nation."

The French Government is returning 470 railway carriages to Franco's Government. This is the complete railway stock belonging to the Republican Government and which is being returned to the Spanish Government under an agreement signed in February last, says Reuter.

You must be self-reliant in spirit and upright in your daily life.

"I have been told by Chinese and foreign friends from Shanghai, Tientsin, and Hankow that some of our young persons in the foreign concessions still lead a life of safety. You know that you are living under enemy oppression. You must make war service your duty. You must maintain your integrity so that you may not be slighted by both your enemy and your friends. I expect you to be true to the National Pact in full."

National Pact

"The Pact calls for:—

- (1) Not to act contrary to the Three People's Principles;
- (2) Not to disobey laws and orders of the Government;
- (3) Not to betray the interests of the State;
- (4) Not to become traitors or subjects of the enemy state;
- (5) Not to participate in traitors' organizations;
- (6) Not to become officers or privates in the enemy army or the puppet army;
- (7) Not to serve as guides for the enemy or the traitors;
- (8) Not to spy on behalf of the enemy or the traitors;
- (9) Not to work for the enemy or the traitors;
- (10) Not to accept banknotes of the enemy or puppet banks;
- (11) Not to purchase enemy goods;
- (12) Not to sell foodstuffs or other articles to the enemy or the traitors.

The nation's Supreme Leader explained that spiritual mobilization is one of the most important and effective weapons to combat the enemy. The spiritual fortress of the people is far more effective and formidable than those of concrete.

Spiritual Revolution

Coming to the People's Monthly Meeting, the Generalissimo pointed out that "Such meetings will serve as evening drums and morning bells for our spiritual revolution."

"We must ask constantly these questions: Have we forgotten that the enemy has invaded our country and murdered our fellow countrymen? Have we forgotten that our houses have been destroyed, our family members have been killed, and our women-folk violated by the enemy?"

"Remembering all this, we will be able to redouble our efforts to avenge our humiliation and to succeed in our war of resistance and national reconstruction."

Loyalty To Duty

In conclusion, the Generalissimo urged that in order to obtain final victory we must be loyal to our duty, and obey the orders of the Government.

"If we can fulfill these stipulations, there is no doubt that we can drive the enemy from our territory, and realize our sacred mission. There will be no doubt then of our achieving the tasks of revolution and national reconstruction as laid down on the 'San Min Chu I'."

JOAN OF ARC FESTIVAL IN PARIS

PARIS, May 15 (T/Ocean)—The Joan of Arc festival, which is held here annually for eight days, following a similar event in Orleans, took place yesterday in the form of a display before the Joan of Arc monument in the Rue de Rivoli.

Headed by Premier Daladier, the French Government was present for the "parade of troops," ranging from students of the St Cyr Military Academy to modern motorized units.

Following the official act of celebration, the members of the Government withdrew and the National Republican and Royalist organizations marched past the monument.

Democracies Lead In The Air

FRANCO-BRITISH PRODUCTION

PARIS, May 6.—The democracies have a clear superiority in air power over the Rome-Berlin axis, declares a former French Minister for Air, Senator Laurent Eynac, in a report to the International Diplomatic Academy here.

Germany has 5,000 planes, of which half are bombers, says M. Eynac. Italy has 2,000 machines, and the axis Powers are producing 900 machines a month.

Britain has 5,000 planes, while France possesses 2,500. Franco-British production, now 700 a month, will reach 900 within a few weeks.

Pending the conclusion of the Franco-British "safety chain," adds M. Eynac the part that the Russian air force—5,000 planes—will play cannot be predicted. "But it will certainly not be used on the side of Germany."

"Down With Wang"

SHANGHAI, May 15 (Int'l)—"Down with Wang Ching-wai." This is the slogan posted in different parts of the International Settlement and French Concession following the report that the expelled Kuomintang leader has suggested to the Japanese ways and means to recover the foreign concessions.

Wang is said to have proposed eight terms for the rendition of the foreign controlled area and to have suggested that the matter should be taken up by the puppet Reformed Government in Nanking.

A certain defunct Chinese evening paper will resume publication on May 25 as an organ of Wang. It will be registered in one of the Consulates with a certain foreigner as nominal owner and publisher.

FOREIGN REACTION TO IL DUCE'S SPEECH

NOT PACIFIC

NEW YORK, May 15 (Reuter)—The "New York Herald-Tribune" thinks that Signor Mussolini's speech at Turin yesterday may relax the immediate tension but, in the long view, cannot be called pacific.

"DESIRE FOR PEACE"

TURIN, May 15 (Reuter)—Signor Mussolini made a brief speech when he opened new workshops at the Fiat factory. Il Duce declared that he spoke with extreme clarity on the international situation yesterday and added, "I reaffirmed in the most explicit manner, our desire for peace, but I also said that some problems must be resolved before they become so chronic as to be a danger for all." The remainder of the speech dealt with social policy.

POLISH VIEW

WARSAW, May 15 (T/Ocean)—The first paper to comment on the speech at Turin by the Duce is the semi-official "Gazeta," which shows obvious displeasure at the attacks against the Democracies and the Versailles system.

The Duce's words, in which he stated that war was no necessity and that, in order to untie the present knots, one need not take the sword, were emphasised. Polish official circles are extremely reticent in their comments on the speech, stating only that it contains nothing new for the solution of the present crisis.

STEADYING EFFECT

PARIS, May 15 (Reuter)—Signor Mussolini's speech is regarded in political circles as not changing the situation, but being moderate in character and likely to be welcomed internationally. The feeling is growing here that the Anglo-Turkish declaration and the other successes of Anglo-French diplomacy is having a steadying effect on the Axis powers and causing them to reflect on their future policy.

Anti-German Riots In Bohemia And Moravia

LONDON, May 15 (Reuter)—The Prague correspondent of the "Daily Telegraph" states that anti-German demonstrations continue to be reported from various parts of Bohemia and Moravia. Owing to the strict censorship, news often reached Prague only after a long delay.

It is now known that there was extensive rioting in Brno on May 1 when, it is stated, German soldiers and Nazi guards were compelled to charge hostile crowds with fixed bayonets.

ANNUAL INSPECTION OF AMBULANCE BRIGADE

The year 1938 offered the Brigade some unusual opportunities of service to the public and, as all its many friends would expect, the Brigade answered very well to the call. Chief amongst those demands for its help was the emergency set up by the flood of refugees which poured into this Colony in November last year when a considerable Japanese force was active on the Anglo-Chinese border.

VALUABLE ASSISTANCE

On that occasion I was able to see with my own eyes the prompt and valuable assistance which men and women members of the Hongkong branch of the St. John Ambulance Brigade rendered to those unfortunate people.

Included among their activities were the rendering of first aid to the wounded and to the many sick refugees who collapsed along the road. At the various refugee camps St. John's helpers, both in the way of nurses and men, were always to be found on duty and subsequently the Brigade formed a most useful and courageous unit at Shum Chun where for several weeks inestimable service was rendered to the many sick and suffering among the refugees who were at that centre.

STUCK TO THEIR POSTS

They stood by their post to the end and when Shum Chun was bombed by the Japanese they were still able to help the doctors in evacuating sick and wounded people. The Young Women's Christian Association Division deserves special mention in this connection.

The Brigade's help was also to the fore in vaccination, the provision of food and transportation, both in the way of ambulances and lorries; finally I would mention the charitable help given by the Brigade in the many cases of child-birth which occurred among the refugees; these last were looked after at the New Territories Maternity Centres. In short, the Brigade has every reason to be proud of what it did for China during those troublous months.

But the services of the Brigade have not been confined to those who have come beyond our border to take refuge in our country. Among this Colony's population in vaccination work, anti-cholera inoculation, the enumeration and classification of street sleepers and in other forms of social service the Brigade has been active; and as Governor I take this opportunity of thanking those who have given this valuable help.

TERRITORIAL BASIS

I am very glad to learn that the numbers of the Brigade have increased so rapidly. I am sure that it is very clearly in the minds of those who are responsible for that recruitment that it must proceed on a territorial basis, that is to say, as far as possible each sub-district should produce enough St. John's workers to provide for the needs of that sub-district; for in time of emergency it would not be possible for a member living, say, in Wanchai to turn out at his post if that post were in Kennedy Town.

The aim, I know, of the Brigade's organizers is to provide a sufficient number of trained personnel to staff all the First Aid posts and casualty stations in the Colony. That is a high ambition, and I can assure those organizers that Government is both grateful for their intention and desirous of helping them to achieve it.

FIRST AID OFFICER

There is one step which is now in contemplation and will, I hope, be taken very shortly and that is to appoint a Government officer who will have the sole duty of organising the First Aid arrangements of the Colony. The intention is to attach him to the staff of the Director of Medical Services, but he will work very closely with the Air Raid Precautions Officer and will look to St. John's to provide him with the large personnel that will be necessary. I have every confidence that the St. John Association and Brigade authorities will co-operate in that scheme.

Last year I appealed to the public in general to continue and to increase the support which they have given to the St. John Ambulance Brigade in Hongkong. The appeal was not unsuccessful as our subscription list was maintained in spite of many calls by other deserving causes; but it did not succeed in enlarging that list. I hope that the Brigade's friends will recognise the Brigade's increasing needs consequent upon its growth and will subscribe accordingly.

MUNIFICENT GIFT

I take this opportunity of publicly rendering the thanks of the Association and Brigade to Mr. Fok Chi-ting for his munificent gift of the Ambulance which I formally accepted just now.

As most sympathizers with St. John's aims and activities are aware, a St. John's Committee was formed by me last year to consider certain problems attendant upon our development. I appointed that committee as President of the Association and its report has gone home to the Chancery in St. John's Gate. Until the decision of the Council, which is an advisory body of the Chapter-General, is known, it would not be suitable for me to speak in detail of what that report contains; but I can say that it contained much of value to the local Association and Brigade and I take this opportunity of expressing publicly my gratitude to its members for the time and pains which they devoted to their labours.

It now only remains for me to renew my congratulations to you on your work in 1938, offering them especially to the recipients of Distinguished Service Medals, and to wish the Brigade all good luck and success in the year 1939.

His Excellency also made the following presentation:—

Developments At Kaifeng More Important Than The Encirclement Of Canton

KAIFENG, capital of Honan Province, which passed into oblivion over ten months ago following its capture by the Japanese, is again prominent in news dispatches.

Three successful attacks on the city by the Chinese forces in the past ten days have aroused wide-spread interest both in China and abroad. The raids have not only been held by neutral observers as indicative of the marked growth of Chinese fighting strength but also of the weakening of the Japanese army. At Kaifeng, the precautions taken by the Japanese following Chinese successes have failed to mend the vulnerability of one of their most important outposts.

Reviewing the progress made by the Chinese army in which over 80 cities and towns recovered during the last half month, the "Ta Kung Pao" commented that a continuous string of small Chinese victories will finally lead to a counter-offensive on all fronts. From this standpoint, the happy tidings of recent Chinese successes were of great significance.

MORE SIGNIFICANT

Commenting on the Chinese successes, the "London Times" wrote that it would be a great mistake to minimise as to exaggerate their importance. "Besides giving proof, which is hardly needed, to the excellence of China's spirit after two years of shattering reverses, the new offensive shows evidence of careful preparation and co-ordination."

The Journal regarded the developments at Kaifeng as being more significant than the encirclement of Canton because of its effect upon Japan's hopes of establishing Marshal Wu Pei-fu's offices there.

Kaifeng first came into the limelight recently when a Reuter's message told of the killing, almost in its entirety, of the Kaifeng puppet "Pacification Committee" while they were holding a meeting.

While considerable interest was being aroused over this biggest single "bang" of traitors, reports of successful Chinese attacks on the city were received. Chinese forces first penetrated into the city on the morning of April 11. They withdrew the same evening upon the arrival of Japanese reinforcements.

At dawn the following day, however, Chinese forces made a fresh assault, bursting into the southern part of the city and engaging the enemy in fierce street-fighting.

Some 600 or 700 of the Japanese perished, a munitions dump was blown up, and the water-tower destroyed, with the result that the city was swamped in a deluge of water.

MASTER STROKE

Commenting on the attack, a highly placed neutral observer interviewed by a Reuter correspondent in Shanghai, described it as a "master stroke from a political and psychological point of view."

He was quoted as saying: "Kaifeng is an important Japanese military base and the Japanese, once they receive reinforcements, will be able to hold it. For the moment I would credit the Chinese with a big tactical rather than military success."

The Japanese action in rushing huge numbers of reinforcements to the city was characterized by a radio commentator the next day as a "shutting of the stable door after the horse has been stolen."

The third successful attack was launched by the Chinese forces on the morning of April 20 when the Kaifeng railway station and the west gate were captured and held till dawn.

DRUM-TOWER

Kaifeng is famous for several things. There is the drum-tower, whereon are written in four immense characters "Sound Shakes Heaven's Centre." According to legend, the characters were written by a 14-year-old boy who took up the huge brush laid out for aspirants to try their skill. Having written the four words, he is said to have straightway fallen dead from exhaustion.

Kaifeng is noted for its earth-salt, which forms a natural deposit on the surface of the ground like a frosty powder at two places within the wide confines of the city. The inhabitants, who call it "little salt," gather it from "salinas" similar to those of South America. There is also the famous, 12-story high Iron Pagoda at the northeast corner of the city. Built in the Sung dynasty (A. D. 960-1126), the pagoda is known for its glazed tiles, and for the striking iron Buddha that tops the structure.

Kaifeng was for several dynasties the capital of China and first made a capital by the feudal state of Wei during the latter period of the Chou dynasty (1122 B. C.—249 B. C.) and was for the last time the capital of China during the Sung dynasty (A. D. 960-1126). When in 1125 the Kin Tartars captured all north China and drove the Sung dynasty south of the Yangtze, Kaifeng was named Nan-king or South Capital of the Tartar Empire in the North.

WORLD'S SUGAR USE PER CAPITA DECLINES

World per capita consumption of sugar during the year ended Aug. 31, 1938, amounted to 31.1 pounds as compared with 32.3 pounds in the previous year, a decrease of 1.2 pounds or 3.7 per cent, according to a survey made by Lamborn's Statistical Department.

Ten years ago the per capita consumption was 30 pounds. Since then it fell to 27.7 pounds in 1933, and then steadily climbed to its peak of 32.3 pounds in 1937. In 1938 world per capita consumption receded, for the first time since 1933.

INCREASE IN PROFIT

William Powell's Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of Messrs. William Powell, Limited, was held at the offices of the Bank of Canton Building yesterday.

An abnormal year of trading conditions was recorded in the chairman's report, which also stated that an increase of about $5,000 over last year's profit was realised.

Mr. E. M. Raymond presided and among those present at the meeting were Messrs. J. H. Seth and H. Overy (Directors), J. T. Bagram, S. H. Ross, P. A. Yvanovich (Shareholders), and J. D. Black (Secretary).

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH

Addressing the meeting, the Chairman said:—

Your Directors are pleased to place before you the result of the year's trading which you will observe shows an increase in profit of approximately $5,000 over last year, and I hope shareholders will approve the recommendation to pay a Dividend and bonus.

NOT OVER-STOCKED

I do not think the accounts call for particular comment, but I would draw your attention to the increase in stocks on hand and goods in transit. This increase is necessary to keep pace with the turnover and your Directors are of the opinion that we are not over-stocked.

Sundry Debtors are higher by $3,000 and this again is accounted for by increased sales. Full provision has been made for Doubtful Debts and the greater portion of the amount shown has been collected.

On the liability side of the Balance Sheet Sundry Creditors are less by approximately $2,300 than at February 28, 1938 and the amount due for Trade and sundries has since been paid off.

THE STAFF

Mr. Overy was due for leave this year, but postponed it in view of the changes in our staff and I am sure shareholders will appreciate this action. While on the subject of the Staff I should like shareholders to know that a new cutter has been engaged and is proving a success.

It is early to give any indication of our trading for the current year but I would warn shareholders against too optimistic a view because the financial year just closed was abnormal.

HEALTHY FINANCES

In conclusion I should like to add that our finances are in a healthy state and if normal conditions obtain we can look forward to a bright future.

I now propose the following resolution:—

"That the Reports and Accounts as presented including the payment of a dividend of 20 cents a share and a bonus of 5 cents a share, the transfer of $10,000 to General Reserve be adopted and passed."

This resolution was seconded by Mr. S. H. Ross, and passed unanimously.

OTHER BUSINESS

Mr. J. H. Seth was then re-elected a director for the current year on the proposal of Mr. J. T. Bagram, seconded by Mr. H. Overy, while Messrs. Linstead and Davis were re-elected auditors on the motion of Mr. Ross seconded by Mr. P. A. Yvanovich.

LANE, CRAWFORD LIMITED

Subject to audit, the accounts for the year ended February 28, 1939, show a profit of $188,259.27, to which must be added the carry forward from last year of $86,863.48, making a total of $255,242.75.

At the forthcoming meeting of shareholders, to be held on Saturday, May 27, the Directors will recommend as follows:—

Transfer to General Reserve	$50,000.00
Transfer to Staff Passages and Contingencies Account	4,426.32
Dividend at the rate of 8 per cent	60,000.00
Bonus to Staff	9,857.91
Write off Bakery Plant	50,000.00
Carry forward to next account	80,955.52
Total	$255,242.75

HE MADE A MOUSE MACHINE!

In Germany, the Nazis are even making the stray cats work to help the four-year plan to success—driving them all into the great new granaries to protect the harvests against rats.

But they are behind the times somewhat. And not half so ingenious as the Scots manufacturer who planned, many years ago, to run his mill with mice! David Hutton, a Dunfermline thread manufacturer, discovered that a mouse imprisoned in a little revolving cage could make a wheel turn, and one mouse in five weeks produced 3,350 threads, twenty-five inches long.

Calculating that each mouse could make him a profit of six shillings and threepence per year, Hutton decided to employ some thousands of mice in the threadmaking business.

He even got as far as renting Dunfermline Abbey as a factory. Unfortunately for the experiment he died before his plan could be carried out.

But the Nazis' cats certainly have nothing on this idea!

SOVIET - POLISH TRADE TALKS

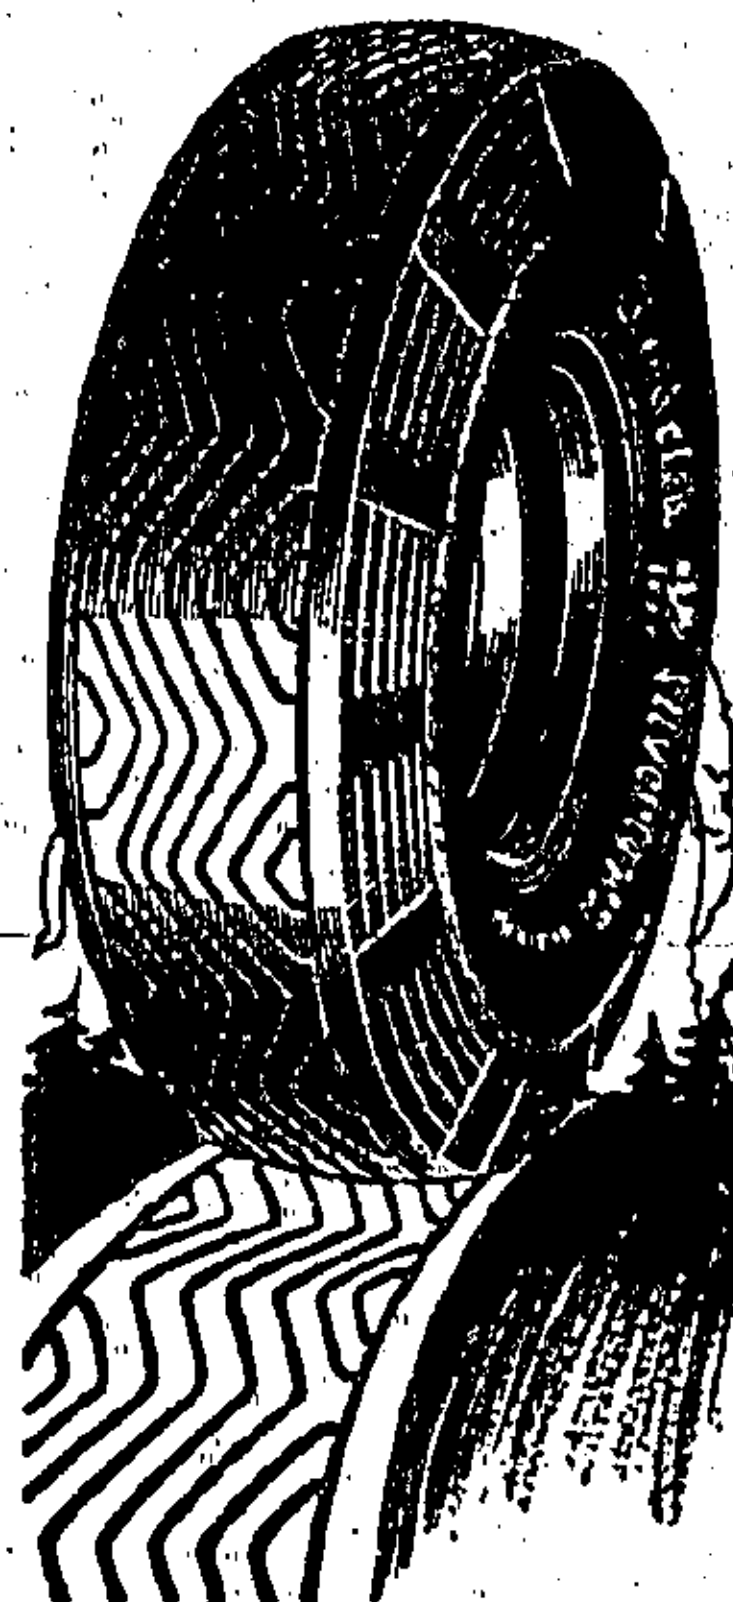

WARSAW, May 15 (T/Ocean).—The Polish Vice-Foreign Minister, M. Seiciszewski, will visit Moscow in the near future for trade negotiations. It is announced in the newspaper "ABC." It is believed that his mission will be to arrange for an export of the Polish iron and steel products to the Soviet Union and the import of Soviet raw materials.

NEW KIND OF TIRE STOPS QUICKER IS SAFER ON WET SLIPPERY ROADS.

Here's a new Goodrich tire with a tread that gives you the greatest protection against skidding that you've ever had on your car.

This new Lifesaver Tread is actually a road dryer. Its never ending spiral bars, acting like a battery of windshield wipers sweep water right and left, force it out through the deep grooves. The rubber grips a dryer, safer surface, stops your car quicker than you've ever stopped before.

Industrial Co - Operatives For Crippled Soldiers

CHUNGKING, May 13 (Central).—Through the efforts of the Chinese Industrial Co-operatives, 200 crippled soldiers in a Southern Kiangsi town are earning a living as workers in co-operatives.

This is one of the recent developments of the Chinese Industrial Co-operatives which aims to train the nation's thousands of incapacitated soldiers so that they will be less dependent upon the Government for support both during and after the war. In this little Kiangsi town, the first in China to have Crippled Soldiers Co-operatives, four units have been started. The organization of these co-operatives has partially answered a long-felt need on the part of Chinese officials to find some way to make crippled soldiers productive while they are being helped by governmental relief.

BRISK BUSINESS

The printing co-operative in the Kiangsi town, entirely operated by crippled soldiers, is doing a brisk business. Its work has been greatly accelerated by the establishment of a new paper co-operative, a new publishing co-operative and several refugee schools in the same town.

The other industrial co-operatives for crippled soldiers in that district include a tobacco co-operative, a chemical co-operative and a tailoring co-operative, all of which meet heavy local demands. New soldiers' co-operatives for making leather, ramie, alcohol, and paper are being organized while one for gold mining directed by an engineer who is being paid part time by the China Industrial Co-operatives will shortly start its work.

The officials of the China Industrial Co-operatives believe that industrial co-operatives, that deal with light industries, afford the best outlet for the energies and abilities of the wounded men.

ATLANTIC AIR SERVICE

Opening May Be Delayed

The British Transatlantic air mail service, which was to have been inaugurated on June 1, to run during the summer months, is likely to be delayed for two, or perhaps three, weeks.

A minor technical difficulty has arisen. It chiefly concerns the completion of a stipulated quota of flying hours with the type of engine used in the Cabot class of flying boat.

This quota could easily be completed in time on the England-Egypt section of the Imperial Airways' air route to South Africa and the East. A certain caretaker attachment also is needed, but it presents no real difficulty.

It would no doubt be possible for the original date—June 1—to be adhered to and for the British service to start as soon as, or even before, the United States services. The date for the beginning of the latter has not yet been announced.

NEW FLOATING DOCK

It is much to be desired that this opportunity for maintaining British prestige should not be lost. Pan-American Airways will run two weekly services, one to France, the other to England, compared with the British plan for one weekly service. The American services, moreover, will be for passengers as well as mails.

Pan-American Airways have ordered a floating dock at Southampton for their flying boats. It will differ in some details from the floating dock used by Imperial Airways.

GIANT PANDA FIGHTS IN AIR LINER

NEW YORK, May 1.—Passengers flying above Pittsburgh to-day nearly lost their lives because the three pilots of their airplane were attacked by a seventy-pound giant panda.

The Panda, belonging to a missionary from China, was being carried as cargo in the baggage compartment next to the pilot's cabin. It was tethered by a long chain.

The plane was about to land at Pittsburgh when the panda suddenly lost its temper. With an angry roar it jumped into the pilot's cabin.

LATER REPORT
 Three flight officers of a passenger air-liner to-day grappled with an enraged giant panda in the control cabin of a plane.

The panda, weighing five stone, slipped and lumbered past the terrified passengers.

In the control cabin the officers were struggling to keep the plane in level flight and overpower their attacker.

Flight Captain D. Terry and Pilot T. Tomlinson battled with the panda for more than twenty minutes while First Officer M. Cuffing landed the plane safely at Pittsburgh airport.

The machine on the ground, the panda was soon overcome and led away to a "cell."

NO BAMBOO
 The panda is en route from China to New York, and was in charge of Dr. A. Best, of West China Union University, who was a passenger.

During the struggle, Dr. Best asked: "Has anyone any fresh bamboo? That will pacify her."

But there was none available.

The giant panda, which looks like a bear lives on bamboo shoots in its mountain home 10,000 feet above sea level. Several have been captured in the last two years in the Himalayan mountains.

Five were brought to England last December by Major Floyd Tangier-Smith. Two are in London Zoo and one at Whipsnade.

Their amusing antics prove a big attraction to visitors, and, although one of them, now on view in London, cost £800, she has already paid for herself by increased revenue.

TWO SYSTEMS
 Some of the flying boats of the Imperial Airways are fitted with apparatus for disinfection during flight. This process is carried out by two separate systems: one a disseminator specially designed to spread dry insecticide, through the passenger cabins and, secondly, an injector type of disseminator suitable for luggage holds and parts of aircraft other than cabins.

In certain eastern countries, health authorities have complained of the waste of time caused by the obligation to have a medical officer available at airports awaiting the arrival of air liners which do not adhere to a regular time-table.

NEW PROPOSAL
 To deal with this difficulty, the Bureau submitted a proposal to the International Bureau of Hygiene at Paris for a message to be sent by masters of aircraft on international routes prior to their arrival at the first airport of the country giving information regarding the health of the crew and passengers.

This proposal was not adopted on the ground that the aircraft, even if fitted with wireless, would not have resources for sending such a message.

PRINCESS ROYAL NAMES 35,000-TON BATTLESHIP

The Princess Royal recently launched the Prince of Wales, Britain's latest 35,000-ton battleship—the second of five of her class—at Messrs. Cammell Laird's yard at Birkenhead.

She smashed a bottle of champagne against the bows, saying: "I name this ship the Prince of Wales, may God guide her and guard and keep all who sail in her."

Immediately after the Prince of Wales was launched she broke one of her anchors. The other anchor was at once dropped and the battleship was brought safely to rest in the middle of the Mersey.

14IN. GUNS
 The Prince of Wales will be one of the fastest and strongest battleships in the world. Her main armament consists of 10 14in. guns mounted in three turrets. Each turret is fired from a 14in. gun weighs 156,000 lb., so that the broadside fire from these guns in 15-600 lb. of shell.

Her secondary armament consists of 16 5.4in. guns in eight turrets, and numerous smaller guns will be mounted.

The latter's fleet of nine long-range flying-boats for the Atlantic and Tasman Sea crossings is now complete except for the Catha, which is to be launched in a week or two.

SINGAPORE IN 1938

VALUABLE HEALTH SERVICES
 The report of the Eastern Bureau of the Health Organization of the League of Nations at Singapore testifies to the smooth discharge of the valuable services of that fifteen-year old outpost of public health protection.

The report justifiably opens with a reference to the fact that in a short space of time, the service at Singapore has been so practically and effectively developed that it is now taken for granted as if it had always existed instead of being one of the most important creations of the League of Nations.

An interesting sidelight is thrown on the effect of modern transport on the problems with which the Bureau has to deal. Among its anxieties is the danger of airborne disease. So the best method of freeing aircraft from insect life has been under consideration and a system has been devised to instal in aeroplanes an automatic plant which will effectively free them from mosquitoes either in the air or on the ground.

SOME OF THE FLYING BOATS OF THE IMPERIAL AIRWAYS ARE FITTED WITH APPARATUS FOR DISINFESTATION DURING FLIGHT. THIS PROCESS IS CARRIED OUT BY TWO SEPARATE SYSTEMS: ONE A DISSEMINATOR SPECIALLY DESIGNED TO SPREAD DRY INSECTICIDE, THROUGH THE PASSENGER CABINS AND, SECONDLY, AN INJECTOR TYPE OF DISSEMINATOR SUITABLE FOR LUGGAGE HOLDS AND PARTS OF AIRCRAFT OTHER THAN CABINS.

IN CERTAIN EASTERN COUNTRIES, HEALTH AUTHORITIES HAVE COMPLAINED OF THE WASTE OF TIME CAUSED BY THE OBLIGATION TO HAVE A MEDICAL OFFICER AVAILABLE AT AIRPORTS AWAITING THE ARRIVAL OF AIR LINERS WHICH DO NOT ADHERE TO A REGULAR TIME-TABLE.

TO DEAL WITH THIS DIFFICULTY, THE BUREAU SUBMITTED A PROPOSAL TO THE INTERNATIONAL BUREAU OF HYGIENE AT PARIS FOR A MESSAGE TO BE SENT BY MASTERS OF AIRCRAFT ON INTERNATIONAL ROUTES PRIOR TO THEIR ARRIVAL AT THE FIRST AIRPORT OF THE COUNTRY GIVING INFORMATION REGARDING THE HEALTH OF THE CREW AND PASSENGERS.
